3. HELP US SPREAD THE WORD

Houston has a big problem with homeless, unwanted, neglected and mistreated animals. We are trying hard to raise awareness and improve the lives of the animals around us but we need your help! If you haven't already done so, like our Facebook page and share our posts. Distribute our posters, flyers and brochures. Contact your elected officials and let them know we need a better solution. If you live in a community that is hard hit with homeless and unwanted animals, talk to your neighbors, organize and take action! These days, even areas like the Houston Heights are reporting unwanted dogs on the streets and in parks.

Conditions for animals in Houston is not going to improve until we do something about it; join us in making a change!
